

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

St. Catherine University and the University of St. Thomas jointly offer social work degrees at the undergraduate and graduate levels. The School of Social Work offers undergraduate courses and curricula for social work, chemical dependency counseling and social services management.

The Master of Social Work (MSW) is designed to provide advanced professional study in clinical social work. Dual-degree programs are offered in collaboration with the Departments of Holistic Health and Theology at St. Catherine University, and the Law School at the University of St. Thomas. The Doctorate of Social Work (DSW) prepares students to teach and lead in the social work profession with a particular focus on teaching as social work practice.
