

ASL AND DEAF COMMUNITIES - BA

The ASL and Deaf Communities major at St. Kate's allows students to gain a deeper understanding of the cultural intricacies and necessities of Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing individuals. This knowledge will equip learners for rewarding careers in education, government services, community services, and beyond while strengthening their advocacy for social justice and equity within these communities. All courses bearing the ASL prefix enjoy the enriching benefit of being conducted entirely in ASL, thus fully immersing students in the language without the interference of spoken English. ASL and Deaf Communities majors complement their studies with a minor in fields like communication studies, critical studies of race and ethnicity, psychology, sociology, leadership, longevity and aging, or international studies. In the course of the degree journey in ASL and Deaf* Communities, students will have the chance to participate in meaningful critical service-learning experiences. This involvement fosters direct interaction and collaboration with several organizations such as the Minnesota State Academy for the Deaf, Metro Deaf School, Thompson Hall Deaf Club, Minnesota Commission of the Deaf, DeafBlind & Hard of Hearing, Deaf Mentor Family Services, Minnesota Deaf Muslim Community, among others. These partnerships enhance the learning experience and further our commitment to social justice and equity. In addition to local involvement, ASL and Deaf Communities majors have demonstrated their commitment to community engagement on a global scale. They have contributed their time and skills in volunteer or intern capacities with government agencies, theatrical venues, and community and political organizations, extending their reach to international efforts in regions. Those earning a degree in ASL and Deaf Communities will find a broad spectrum of professional arenas where their skills can be utilized to promote social justice, equity, allyship, partnership, support, and access. These fields often include community organizations, education, government, or healthcare, where our graduates excel as administrators and service providers.

During their academic journey at St. Catherine University, students are presented with a multitude of avenues to apply and augment their knowledge, both within the campus and in the wider community. On-campus, the ASL Club serves as a dynamic platform where students can participate in diverse cultural and social events, such as ASL poetry recitations or theatrical enactments. For those seeking an immersive language experience, the ASL Living and Learning Community (LLC) presents an intriguing option. As a residential floor dedicated to fostering an environment conducive to the consistent use of ASL, the LLC is an ideal setting for those deeply interested in the language and its associated culture. Moreover, the Assistantship Mentoring Program provides students with the chance to engage in research, program management, and teaching roles, thereby enhancing their practical skills and academic understanding. Off-campus, students can explore a plethora of community service and volunteering opportunities at local Deaf schools, governmental bodies, theatrical venues, community organizations, and political entities. Nationally, students have gained rich insights by volunteering at conferences, while on an international level, they have contributed to volunteer initiatives in countries such as Kenya and Jamaica. These experiences expand their global perspective, fostering an understanding of ASL and Deaf culture in diverse social and cultural contexts, further highlighting the intersectionality of Deaf identities and the importance of social justice advocacy within these communities.

In the culminating year of their studies, students have the opportunity to undertake a community-engaged internship, offering them the chance to apply their theoretical knowledge within a practical, real-world setting. The possible placements span numerous sectors, such as education, government, non-profit organizations, human services, and the performing arts. Such internships are a crucial component in understanding and addressing issues of social justice, as they provide students with first-hand experience of the diverse societal structures and circumstances that impact Deaf communities. Internships facilitate the bridging of theory and practice, fostering a deeper understanding of the complexities within these sectors and the role of ASL as a tool for fostering communication, inclusivity, and equity. Students play an active role in their placement selection, aligning their internship with their individual career aspirations and interests. This approach ensures that the chosen setting provides a meaningful, impactful experience where ASL is actively employed. This experiential learning not only enhances their language skills but also deepens their understanding of social justice issues within Deaf communities, equipping them to be proactive advocates and professionals in their future careers.

The ability to communicate in ASL and in English is critical to both professional responsibilities and personal relationships, therefore:

A minimum grade of B- (2.667) is required for all prerequisite courses to be considered for admission into the major.

A minimum grade of B- (2.667) is required for an ASL or INTP course to be counted toward the major.

If a student does not receive a minimum grade of B- (2.667), credit toward the major may be gained only by repeating the course and not by proficiency exam. Courses may be repeated once.

A minor in ASL and Deaf Communities is also available.
