In order to graduate from the University, students must satisfy residency requirements related to total course work, major course work, and minor course work (if a minor is declared). Course work in residence is defined as all courses registered for and completed at St. Catherine University. In addition to courses taken on campus, this includes course work taken on an exchange basis (fall and spring semesters only) through the Associated Colleges of the Twin Cities (College for Women students only) and approved study abroad programs.

Transferred credits are not considered residency credits. Credits earned through examination (IB, CLEP, AP, proficiency exams, etc.) or prior learning assessment are not considered in residence and therefore may not be used to satisfy the University's residency requirements. Credits earned from courses taken at other ACTC institutions during the January term and in the summer do not count toward residency.

Students are responsible for meeting all residency requirements, regardless of the number and type of courses that are transferred to St. Catherine University. The approval to transfer a course or courses in no case supersedes residency requirements.
