

LONGEVITY AND AGING - MINOR

---

The longevity and aging minor is an interdisciplinary minor that examines integrated environmental, sociocultural, behavioral, and biological influences that underlie age-related health disparities within a "bench-to-bedside" framework. This minor is appropriate for students with interests in healthcare, research, aging, and/or health disparities.

This minor is offered in the College for Women only.

Curriculum

Code	Title	Credits
EXSS 2500	Foundations of Longevity and Aging: Aging in a Diverse America	4
BIOL 2720	Sophomore Seminar	2
LONG 4800	Senior Seminar and Portfolio Review	0
Select two from:		8
BIOL 3820	Biology of Longevity and Aging
PSYC 2025	Lifespan Developmental Psychology
SOCI 3210	Family, Identity and Inequality
Select one from:		4
BIOL 3140	Human and Comparative Animal Physiology with Lab
BIOL 3850	Biopsychology with Lab
COMM 3100	Communicating across Cultures, Identities and Differences
ECON 3250	Healthcare Economics
EXSS 3615	Motor Learning and Motor Control
PHIL 3400	Biomedical Ethics
Total Credits		18